The Real-Life Mom Planner

Make a little room for what matters.

SAMPLE / PRINT & ANNOTATE / MONDAY START

This planner belongs to Start anywhere. Leave a page blank. Begin again whenever you need.

Start with three pages

You do not need to fill every page to use this well.

01 Reset

Use Weekly reset to gather loose ends, choose up to three priorities and decide what can wait. Ten minutes is a suggested starting point, not a rule.

02 See the week

Put fixed commitments on Week at a glance. Add one useful next step per day. If several people have busy schedules, add Family week.

03 Make meals easier

Check what is already in the kitchen. Choose realistic dinners, including leftovers and a backup. Add missing ingredients to Grocery list.

MAKE IT YOURS

Pick a planning day that fits your household. Use the ownership and handoff pages with a partner, relative, friend or caregiver when helpful. If you are planning solo, use the same space for support you can ask for, simplify or postpone.

WHAT NEEDS TO CHANGE?

An owner handles the planning and follow-through, not just the final step. Agree on a realistic result together. Use the check-in only where it helps.
